

What do your local waters mean to You?

The Waters and Communities Office are hosting meetings in the coming weeks to discuss the natural waters of County Meath. If you have an interest in water quality, angling, heritage, biodiversity, tourism or recreational use of your local waters; then this is your opportunity to share your knowledge, and input into how we manage them.

Aoife McGrath, Community Water Officer for Meath, will present information on the latest draft River Basin Management Plan for Ireland 2018 – 2021, along with details of how you can have your say and influence the final plan.

There will be refreshments after the meeting and opportunities to network. The times, dates and venues of the meetings are set out below.
