

December 2020

Meath Arts Office Newsletter

Welcome to the December edition of the Arts Office Newsletter. This edition contains information on arts awards, opportunities and events taking place over the next month.

2020 has been a difficult and challenging year for all, particularly for artists, creatives and our arts communities. We, as an Arts Service have striven to provide valuable support throughout the county during this time. Earlier this year we reached out to our creative and artistic communities and, in response, developed a series of initiatives including Ceol Comfort, Toradh online, Theatre Tuesday and an expansion of some of our Arts Grants & Bursaries Schemes. Whilst providing support to artists, we're delighted to say that this online programme has been very positively received with 61K + views on our social media sites to date.

Our online programme continues over the Christmas period with some lovely treats from Artist and Writer Noreen Walshe in 'The Christmas Parcel' and 'Hoor', a text and image compilation that combines poetry with visual art, bringing together the work of two award-winning Irish artists: poet Jim McElroy and illustrator Ann Kiernan. These will be included in the Department of Foreign Affairs initiative To Be Irish @ Christmas, further details are included below.

Finally, we would like to thank everyone for their support during 2020 and, in particular, our amazing artists and creatives who have shown such resilience and have, with their wonderful talents helped everyone get through these challenging months.

We wish you all a very Happy Christmas and New Year and look forward to what will hopefully be a better 2021 for all.

Nollaig Shona agus Athbhliain faoi Mhaise Daoibh.

Cross Sundial by Michael Verdon

Cross Sundial by Michael Verdon

Cross Sundial by Michael Verdon is a striking yellow steel structure measuring 1.2 x .9 x .9 meters.

A Cross Sundial (or cruciform or crucifix dial) is a dial in the form of a cross with the "front" surface of the cross parallel to the equatorial plane, and the top pointing south. The cross sundial is a universal sundial and can be used anywhere in the world.

This semispherical work, originally commissioned in 1989 by Meath County Council, sat outside Trim Library for many years.

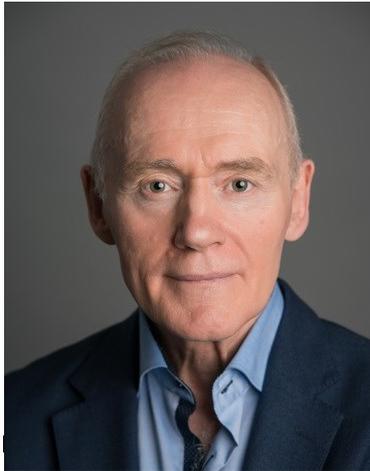

As Trim Library enters an exciting stage of redevelopment to facilitate a new library and community theatre, the Cross Sundial sculpture was relocated to a new home in Nobber mainstreet, where it received a warm welcome.

Born in 1951, Michael Verdon studied art at the National College of Arts and Design from 1970 to 1978, in the periods of 1973 to 1974, he also worked in the Dublin Art Foundry. He appeared in many group exhibitions and received many awards throughout his career.

A Christmas Parcel

Meath County Council Arts Office is delighted to present 'A Christmas Parcel; the video package'.

This collection of shorts adapts the illustrated book: A Christmas Parcel, written by Meath artist Noreen Walshe.

Featuring memories painted in words and images, the charming series beautifully evokes a little girl's little world at Christmas time in Limerick in the 1950s. Igniting that special spark of magic reserved only for children, and only at Christmas time, A Christmas Parcel is a sensory assortment of recollections; wrapped with love, stamped with nostalgia and tied up with pining for Christmas past.

A Christmas Parcel includes 5 stories: Bears on the Horizon, The Tenth Carol, Christmas Star, Across the Christmas Sky and Ghosts which were first broadcast for Christmas 2008 by RTÉ Lyric FM.
