Living on an island where sheep are intrinsic to the landscape, entire generations can lay claim to a grandmother who knit them the ubiquitous woollen jumper. Ingrained in the national psyche, the art of knitting is currently enjoying a resurgence. In this era of fast fashion, Airfield plan to get the nation knitting through a suite of on-line, wool related activities, designed to enrich the cultural fabric of children and young people. The art of knitting is a valuable life skill, providing a creative outlet, while also improving dexterity and hand-eye coordination.
