

Summer 2021

Meath Arts Office Newsletter

Welcome to the summer edition of the Arts Office newsletter. With the warmer months looming and public health restrictions finally easing, we have much to look forward to in the coming weeks.

In addition to this good news, Meath County Council Arts Office has a number of opportunities, events and programmes coming up and running throughout the summer.

Following the success of our newly launched online grants system and the very positive uptake of the spring funding cycle, we are delighted to launch the Arts Office 2021 Summer Funding Cycle with funding opportunities for schools, community groups and professional artists in pursuit of continued professional development, training or mentoring opportunities.

The online Teacher Artist Partnership (TAP) CPD summer course and residency programme is accepting applications and is a great and most importantly, paid, opportunity for artists to develop in the areas of arts and education.

We have 3 online programmes launching including: a Bealtaine series, celebrating the arts as we age; An Art and Mindfulness programme, as part of the Meath County Council's Keep Well initiative; and this year's Cruinniú na nÓg events catalogue, celebrating youth focused creativity.

Congratulations are extended to the recipients of 2 recent awards: Fiona Sherlock the newly appointed MCC Writer in Residence and Christy Leech, this year's MCC Centre Culturel Irlandais residency winner. Well done to both and good luck with your placements, no doubt great work will result from both residencies.

Wishing you all a safe and enjoyable summer.

SPOTLIGHT ON PUBLIC ART : Boy with Kite by Jarlath Daly

Boy with Kite by Jarlath Daly

Boy with Kite by sculptor, Jarlath Daly is an imposing bronze figure that graces the main entrance to Bettystown Beach, where kite flying has become synonymous with the area.

Looking as though the boy is racing across the rooftops with his kite, this sculpture has a sense of youth, timelessness and fun.

Born in Tipperary in 1956, Jarlath Daly's sculptures reflect local themes, legends, history and sport and are inspired by nature and childhood memories. His works range in scale from 10 inches to 30 feet.

Boy with Kite is a beautiful whimsical art piece not to be missed when on a visit to the east coast.

Arts and Health Bursary 2021

The artsandhealth.ie bursary 2021 is being offered to artists working in participatory arts and health contexts to reflect on their practice.

The artist bursary was first introduced in 2020 in response to the Covid-19 pandemic and curtailment of arts programming in health settings.

Over the past year, artists have shown great resolve and imagination in adapting and developing participatory arts experiences for healthcare communities at a

Bursary - Three awards of €2000 each will be offered to successful applicants.

The closing date for applications is Thursday 27 May 2021 at 12pm.
