We can do this

June 2021

The COVID-19 vaccine programme is well underway and vaccines are helping to protect us from COVID-19.

However, the virus is still with us. It is still spreading, infecting unvaccinated people and causing illness. For now, we all need to keep taking steps to protect ourselves and those around us.

'We can do this' first launched in March 2021. It encourages us to continue to keep our distance, wear face coverings, keep our hands clean and get a COVID-19 test as soon as we notice any symptoms.

This new 'We can do this' campaign is more hopeful and upbeat, reflecting the mood of a nation that is getting back to friends and family and enjoying the benefits of our collective efforts to slow the spread of the virus.

Because we can do this, for our friends, our families, our communities - #ForUsAll.
