The Big Think – What do people with disabilities in Ireland think researchers should explore in future?

An Online Zoom Event

What is this invitation about?

The National Disability Authority would like to invite you to an online Zoom event.

The National Disability Authority is also known as the NDA.

This event will take place on Tuesday 23rd November 2021.

It will be on for one hour from 7.30 to 8.30 pm.

This event is about research in Ireland in the future.

What is research?

Research is the study of a topic, problem, concern, or issue.

We do research to get information, find out new facts, and to solve problems.

Research affects nearly every part of our lives. It is important to health and well-being, the environment, education, employment, and our standard of living.

Research can help us to make sure that all people can be part of our society.

What is 'Creating Our Future'?

'Creating Our Future' is a Government project. It is a chance for everyone in Ireland to tell the Government their research ideas.

This will help make our country better for everyone.

We are inviting people with disabilities to this event to make sure that their views are part of this national project.

We will share your ideas with the Government after the online event.

Hearing your ideas

We want to hear your ideas.
All ideas are welcome.

Your ideas don't have to be about disability.
No idea is too big or too small.
There are no bad ideas.

We want to hear your ideas about what research should be done to help you, your family, your friends, or your community.

We would like to hear from Disabled Persons
Organisations and individuals with disabilities.

What will happen at the event?

We will break into small groups.

You will have time to think and tell us your ideas.

We will collect all of your ideas, make a list, and send them to the 'Creating Our Future' team. Your name will not be on the list of ideas.

We will think about your ideas when we are planning research at the NDA.
